The Magical West

Majestic monasteries and the Diarizos river

Combining natural beauty with historical interest, this route takes a full day as it covers a significant part of southern Pafos and its hilly hinterland, dotted with vines and traditional villages. Key attractions are two of Cyprus' better known monasteries of Agios Neofytos and Panagia Chryssorogiatissa, the magnificent archaeological site of Palaipafos, and the beautiful Diarizos valley. Optional detours into some of the villages are an added bonus. Driving conditions are good, though a 4WD may be advisable during the winter months.

SCAN & EXPLORE ROUTE 6

Panagia Chryssorogiatissa Monastery

The monastery of Agios Neophytos is famous for its 12th and 15th century Byzantine frescoes and its striking architecture

Start your trip from Pafos and onto Mesogi. From Mesogi take a left and follow the signs to Agios Neofytos monastery.

You will be driving uphill with a great view of the entire Pafos coast on your left. Drive through the rocky terrain of wild trees and forest-like surroundings.

Driving into the monastery, drive slowly and make your way through the parked cars and buses to find a place to stop. The monastery founded by the Cypriot Neofytos, who carved a home for himself out of the mountain rock, is famous for its 12th and 15th century Byzantine frescoes and its striking architecture. Home only to a handful of monks, the monastery is located below the grottoes and sits at about an altitude of 400m offering amazing views of the entire Pafos coast.

Agios Neophytos Monastery

Take the same way out of the monastery site and make your way through the village of Tsada, the home village of EOKA national hero Evagoras Pallikaridis. Take a left to enter the village or continue straight onto Kallepeia. Take a right into and up through the narrow streets of Kallepeia, to reach the main road and onto Letymbou. The area is blessed with fertile lands ideal for wine production, which is exactly what the area and the villages of Letymvou, Kourdaka and Lemona are particularly proud of.

Drive carefully up through the old traditional village of Choulou and make your way through the beautiful old stone houses. With their windows and doors open throughout the summer months you'll probably get a glimpse of everyday life in the mountain villages with the women going about their daily chores or sipping on their Cyprus coffee and the men working on the fields or playing backgammon.

Once you reach Agios Fotios the road becomes even narrower as you drive past abandoned old houses and scattered wild fig trees, in an area that is rich in its production of apples, grapes, pears, peaches, cherries, local wine and raisins, almonds and walnuts and is a blessing to walk through in Spring.

Take the main road towards Pano Panagia and follow the sign for Agia Moni monastery. An annex of Kykkos monastery, Agia Moni is said to have been built by St. Eftychios and St. Nicolas in the 4th century AD on the ruins of the temple of Hera. In 1752, in one of the fires that destroyed Kykkos monastery the holy icon of the Virgin Mary was transferred here to be kept safe.

Back onto the main road you also come across the Panagia Chrysorrogiatissa monastery, dedicated to "Our Lady of the Golden Pomegranate." Originally founded in the 12th century AD the monastery holds important icons and treasures of the Christian faith,

Panagia Chrysorrogiatissa

Panagia

Agia Moni is said to have been built by St. Eftychios and St. Nicolas in the 4th century AD on the ruins of the temple of Hera including a silver and gold plated icon of Christ and the Virgin Mary said to have been painted by Apostle

Luke the Evangelist. The monastery comes with its own winery and produces fine wine from its own vineyards.

Dedicated to the Virgin Mary Panagia tou Sinti dates back to the first half of the 16th century has been awarded the Europa Nostra award for its restoration.

Continue on to find the beautiful and picturesque village of Panagia at an altitude of 900m, birthplace of Archbishop Makarios III. The village was named after the Virgin Mary, a tribute to the surrounding churches and monasteries dedicated to her. Here you'll find small traditional coffee houses and places to sit down for a bite. The nearby 10km nature trail of Vouni Panagias, which requires 3.5 – 4 hours of hiking, is a promising option for nature enthusiasts.

To get back on route follow the same way back and take a left to go through the village of Pentalia via a winding dirt road, to one of the most important structures built during the Venetian period, the monastery of Panagia tou Sinti which lies on the west bank of Xeros river. Dedicated to the Virgin Mary this remarkable monument which dates back to the first half of the 16th century has been awarded the Europa Nostra award for its restoration. The movie-like setting and remote location of the monastery, at the base of the valley enveloped by the surrounding hills, which turns gold during the summer months and a luscious green during spring, with its rocky and shrubby terrain grazed by flocks of goats make for a truly authentic Cypriot landscape which takes you back in time.

To make your way on to Agia Marina you can double back and ascend to Pentalia to reach the main road. Alternatively, those with a 4WD can opt to follow the road past the church, over the rocky terrain of the river through the fruit tree orchards of the valley and up the slope to Agia Marina. A beautiful sight is the almond orchards that line either side of the road. Take a left to go through Nata, crossing Xeros river to Choletria, Stavrokonnou, Kelokedara and all the way up to Salamiou.

If you have time to spare take a few minutes off your route and follow the signs for Agios Ioannis an abandoned village up on the hill, at a dead-end, which offers amazing views of the beautiful natural landscape. There are only a handful of people residing in the village so feel free to roam the streets for a few nice clicks with your camera.

Tzelefos Bridge

Carry on to the small village of Arminou with its traditional stone built houses nestling on the slope lining narrow spiral alleys. North of the village, lies one of the most notable attractions on the island, the Tzelefos Bridge, the largest of the mediaeval stone bridges situated on the bank of the Diarizos river. The nearby picnic site is a promising stop for those who would like to spend some more time connecting with nature.

The Tzelefos Bridge, the largest of the mediaeval stone bridges situated on the bank of the Diarizos river Drive onto the other side of the river through Filousa, onto Praitori, Kedares, Kidasi, Agios Georgios, Mamonnia, and Fasoula villages situated along Diarizos river all the way down south to Asprokremmos dam.

Kidasi

As you drive down the hill past Fasoula on your way to Nikokleia look out your window to the left. Pull on the side of the road to admire the abandoned village of Souskiou on your left, or if you are driving a 4WD take one of the side dirt tracks into the village. A picturesque setting for those looking to snap a few pictures and of particular archaeological interest, this deserted settlement lies on the right bank of Diarizos. The remarkable pre-Bronze Age necropolis of bell-shaped tombs near the settlement, unearthed 2.5 kilometres inland from Kouklia, has brought to light significant Chalcolithic findings, including picrolith figurines, necklaces, stone bowls and composite vases. In fact, a unique Cypriot fertility statue has found its home all the way across the world in the private collection of the J. Paul Getty Museum in California. Past the abandoned village you will arrive in Kouklia and Palaipafos.

Palaipafos

A UNESCO World Heritage Site, Palaipafos or Old Pafos in Kouklia, is best known for its Sanctuary of Aphrodite, the most ancient remains of which date back to the 12th century BC.

The largest religious centre of western Cyprus until the 3rd - 4th century BC, it was a celebrated pilgrimage centre of the ancient Greek world

ENJOY YOUR STAY AND PLEASE HELP US KEEP THE ROADS OF CYPRUS SAFE FOR EVERYONE.

Enjoy a different kind of holiday in Cyprus off the beaten track in peace and tranquillity by staying in a restored traditional house in one of the island's many picturesque villages.

Awaken to the sound of a cock crowing, or a donkey braying, take your breakfast in the shade of a vine with the smell of jasmine or wild thyme in the air, go for a long walk in the pine-scented forest, watch how the local bread and 'halloumi' cheese are made and experience rural living at first hand. And when the sun goes down, just lie back and enjoy Cyprus' magical evenings gazing at one of the starriest skies you will ever see, lulled by the gentle sounds of the night crickets.

You will be given the warmest of welcomes, as Cypriots have a reputation for being hospitable, and you will certainly end up making many good friends before you leave. Don't be surprised if your hosts go out of their way to treat you as one of the family, lavishing a veritable feast of local delicacies upon you.

Kalopanagiotis Lefkosia

Try everything by ordering 'mezedes' and wash it all down with one of the local beers or wines. Cyprus' sweet Commandaria wine is one of the oldest in the world, and if you're brave enough, have a shot of 'zivanja', which is almost pure alcohol and packs a neat punch.

More than just for summer, Cyprus is perfect at any time of year. Blessed with an abundance of sunshine and warm year-round temperatures, it is a great place to enjoy winter sun, to avoid the crowds in the autumn and to marvel at nature's springtime tapestry of colour. With rugged coasts and mountain peaks, sunny vineyards and cool pine forests, flat expanses of wheat fields and lush citrus orchards, the island has something for everyone.

And when you've had your fill of relaxing, you'll find that in Cyprus there's much to see and do. Play a round of golf, go cycling, or hiking round the countryside, or take up a new sport. Or wonder at spectacular Greek temples, opulent Byzantine churches and ancient artefacts that are the remnants of a civilisation going back 10,000 years.

The properties offered are a great base from where to explore the island. Carefully renovated to maintain their distinctive character, while including all modern conveniences, they are ideal for those seeking comfort and privacy in friendly and attractive surroundings.

Byzantine Churches and Monasteries

Many fine examples of Byzantine art have survived on the island that can be seen /admired both in painted churches with colourful frescoes and monasteries. Because of the eminent importance of the icons and frescoes, most churches and monasteries are kept locked. Therefore, visitors wishing to see any of these churches should first ask at the "coffee shop" of the village for the priest or any other responsible person who will escort them. The Cyprus Tourism Organisation's publication "10,000 years of History and Civilisation" refers briefly to various churches and monasteries on the island. Some of the monasteries have visiting hours which have to be respected by visitors.

Important Notes:

- Wearing shorts, backless tops,

very short dresses etc., should be avoided.

- The use of flash is prohibited as it may damage the icons and frescoes.

- No accommodation is available in the monasteries.

- Most of the monasteries and convents remain closed on Saturday or Sunday for group visits.

- It is advisable especially for certain monasteries e.g. Machairas and Agios Irakleidios the guiding should be done outside the monasteries.
